

2022 Annual Report

Feral Cat Coalition of Oregon

YEAR ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 2022

Chester is one of eight feral cats living outside an apartment complex in Salem. When Silvia noticed these hungry cats and found out no one was caring for them, she stepped up and started feeding them. After one cat had a litter of kittens, she decided that she "was going to get all the cats spayed/neutered so no further kittens would be born in this environment." Because of caregivers like Silvia and supporters like you, Chester and his mates are healthy - and no longer breeding.

Dear Friends,

The Feral Cat Coalition of Oregon (FCCO) remains tirelessly focused on reducing feral (untamed) cat populations and improving the lives of these cats who call the streets their home, through no fault of their own. This Annual Report for our fiscal year, which ended on September 30, 2022, showcases how your compassion and support directly impact the lives of our most vulnerable cats.

Since our inception in 1995, our feral cat spay/neuter services have been provided to caregivers for a donation and not for a fee. Last year we provided our life-changing services to 7,002 cats from 31 counties. Incredibly we can provide this community service to so many no matter how close or far because we have your support. You truly are the difference.

Additional highlights from the year include distributing 6,774 pounds of donated cat food to caregivers when they brought in their cats. With 70% having a household income of under $50,000 this food is indispensable. And the Kitten Caboose partnership that gets tame kittens who were born to feral or stray moms adopted into loving homes helped 378 kittens.

In September, we celebrated the 10th Annual Catio Tour. The Tour is making a difference. We know of 1,028 catios in the Portland metro region, each one protecting cats and wildlife, and solidly making Portland the Catio Capital!

Since the pandemic we have seen a steady increase in the need for our services. With you by our side we'll continue to provide our much-needed care to as many cats as possible.

Thank you!

Karen Kraus, Executive Director

FCCO MISSION: To improve the welfare and reduce the population of feral and stray cats through spay/neuter programs and education.

HELPING CAREGIVERS AND CATS IN NEED

With an average of 4 cats per caregiver and 70% of caregivers with a reported annual household income less than $50,000, donation-based services are critical for helping the cats who most need FCCO's compassionate services.

Cats came from 23 counties in Oregon and 8 counties in Washington.

The largest colony we helped, 59 cats, traveled three hours each way from Douglas County because there are no similar services closer.

Miss Kitty, above right, lives in Woodland, WA. Carol saw this hungry cat coming to her porch, and soon noticed kittens following. She started to think of her neighborhood and what it would look like if this family of cats started reproducing so she searched for help until she found FCCO.
